

Alpha Asset Management M.F.M.C. (hereinafter “M.F.M.C.”) uses cookies in the website in order to create a more secure and efficient environment for its visitors.

1. WHAT IS A COOKIE?

Cookies are small text files dropped to the browser when someone visits a website. Their main function is to store information, e.g. preferred language and country, connection information, etc., in order to facilitate the browsing experience of visitors in the websites. The information collected in this manner is used exclusively for the proper function of our website and for safety reasons.

2. WHICH CATEGORIES OF COOKIES WE COLLECT?

- Strictly Necessary Cookies

These are “first party cookies” that are used exclusively by us for the secure and proper function of our website. They allow you to browse and use its features, e.g. access to secure areas, etc. All your preferences and settings (e.g. language and country, log-in information, browser and plug-in settings) that are stored in these cookies, are reproduced in our website and cannot determine your personal identity. Without them many applications of our website cannot function efficiently.

3. AMENDMENT OF THE POLICY AND NOTIFICATION

We may amend this Policy from time to time, in order to be always compliant with the statutory requirements and the procedures of our business activities. If we decide to replace this Policy or introduce very important changes, we will notify you accordingly. In order to be informed about the most up to date version of this Policy, we advise you to visit this page regularly.
